Ministering to One Child at a Time

Meet Four-Year-Old Rania

Rania lives with her cousin in one of the villages on the outskirts of Kampala. She did not have a chance to experience a mother's love because her mother died of a severe headache when Rania was just two days old. Rania's father is unknown. At the age of three, she was looking forward to joining school, since it is the school-going age in Uganda.

Unfortunately, her cousin could not support her in school due to her low income, which could only cater to their feeding. Rania could only admire those who could go to school and escort her friends to school.

Luckily, last year Rania was identified as one of the eligible kids for sponsorship in her community and was registered in Buyamba. Rania got a sponsor who brought light into her world and she is so excited to join baby class at God Cares Primary School this February.

A girl who used to escort and admire other kids attending school is now joining one of the best schools in Kampala, Uganda. Rania will now have a balanced diet, a good education, and medical support, and she will also learn about Christ.

Most importantly, her favorite color is red, and she loves playing with dolls.
